Bluffer Is Hustled From the Speaker's Room

A REMARKABLE DEMAND

Chairman Knights of Labor Insists that California Democrat be Appointed to Important Chairmanship and Threatens Mr. Cannon With Defeat.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Speaker Cannon, resenting what he deemed an insult from John Herman J. Schulte, chairman of the national executive committee of the Knights of Labor, summarily ordered Mr. Schulte from the speaker's room at the capitol today, with the parting injunction to the labor leader never to darken his door again.

Mr. Schulte made his first call upon the speaker several days ago, with the demand that Representative Livernash, of San Francisco, be made chairman of the committee on labor, and that Representative Wynn, of the same city, be made a member of that committee. As both these men are members of the minority, Mr. Cannon explained to Mr. Schulte that their assignments would depend upon the recommendation of Representative Williams, the majority floor leader, but it would be impossible to make Mr. Livernash chairman of the committee as the chairmanship would go to the majority.

When Mr. Schulte appeared before Mr. Cannon today he announced in what was taken by the official to be an offensive manner that the labor committee had been "packed." He renewed his demand that Mr. Livernash be assigned to this committee, announcing that he had defeated Mr. Cannon for election to the fifty-second congress and that unless his request in this instance was accorded he was going into the speaker's district in the next campaign.

SHALL IT ADJOURN

That's the Principal Question Before Congress

If Special Session Lasts Until Monday Noon It Will Be a Situation Without Precedent—Wood's Friends are Concerned.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Unless there is an agreement by both houses of congress to adjourn the present session before noon Monday, when the regular session begins, all nominations must fail; and if the present special session ends by limitation, thus preventing the president from sending recess appointments to the senate, all pending recess appointments must terminate with the convening of congress in its regular session.

Friends of General Wood are vitally interested in the question of an adjournment by current action. This would mean General Wood's reversion to the rank of brigadier general and have a similar effect on the appointments of 167 army officers advanced by reason of General Wood's promotion, all of whom have assumed the rank and pay of their new appointments in the same manner as though their nominations had been confirmed by the senate.

The situation has also been canvassed at the war department and much alarm is felt over the disturbance that will occur regarding officers who were promoted in the recess and whose rank depends on the promotion of General Wood and other officers. In view of this situation it is possible that the administration will suggest a sine die adjournment.

One reason given by the leaders of the house for not passing a resolution of adjournment was that it would be a discount to the president to adjourn a called session without completing the work for which it is called. Members of the senate say they were ready to adjourn ten days ago, and a resolution of adjournment publicly would have been sent to the house if it had not been reported and not been denied that the house would not give consideration to a resolution of adjournment. The situation is said to be without precedent in the senate.

CHIEFS CONFER

Senator Hanna Calls on the President

THEY TALK FOR HOURS

The Senator Left the White House at Late Hour Last Night—Both Highly Pleased—A Complete Understanding—President Wishes Senator to Manage Campaign.

Washington, Dec. 4.—An important conference was held at the White House tonight between the president and Senator Hanna. It occurred on the initiative of Mr. Hanna and to both participants the conference was perfectly satisfactory. Senator Hanna arrived at 9:30 and remained with the president until 11 o'clock. At the conclusion neither the president nor Senator Hanna cared to discuss for publication the details.

It was stated that the meeting had not differed in any personal respect from others that they have had in the past and which they will have in the future. It was announced that reports recently circulated that there had been a rift between the two are of cordial and appreciative friendship.

The conference tonight took a wide range. It dealt principally with pending and prospective legislation before congress, particularly with that relating to the isthmian canal and with general political conditions. Before the conference Senator Hanna was chairman of the intercommittee of the senate. Mr. Hanna has manifested deep interest in all questions relating to that body. He took tonight to discuss the present situation, especially its diplomatic phases, very fully with the president.

The agreement on the subject was absolute. Both, it can be said, are confident the position taken by the administration will be approved by the American people.

The contested confirmation of General Leonard Wood was not considered, though an incidental reference was made to it. It is known that the president and Senator Hanna differ on that subject, but each fully recognizes that the difference is honest and sincere and it is believed by friends of both that it cannot possibly interrupt their relations. Likewise it can be said that no discussion took place concerning the changes of the republican national committee.

President Roosevelt has expressed to Mr. Hanna his desire that he shall retain the chairmanship. The senator has not announced his feeling regarding the matter. It may be said that the state of Mr. Hanna's health is involved in the decision and indeed will be the controlling factor in it. After Hanna left the White House he was besieged by newspaper men who desired to learn the result of the conference. He declined to make any statement, insisting that it was merely a friendly talk over matters of mutual interest and was of no public significance or importance.

"I spent a very pleasant evening," he admitted, finally. "That is about all there is to it. You can say, however, that I am very glad to have the differences between the president and myself be absurd. I have no statement to make."

Several of our clients have been doing business with Dowie for a long time and have always been paid what was due them. They believe full payment will be made them without the receivership of the federal court because they do not think Dowie is insolvent. The receivership, in our opinion, is unnecessary and without it Dowie would probably be able to pay 100 cents for every dollar of his indebtedness, and have much money left. For this reason we advise our clients to have nothing to do with the receivership of Dowie's claims.

At the same time Dowie's representatives will ask Judge Kohlsaat to order the receivers to vacate the lace factory at Zion City. This industry is in charge of a corporation and as Dowie is not the sole stockholder, it will be urged that this concern should not be controlled by the receivership court. The claim will be made that Stevenson holds stock in this corporation as security for his claim of $100,000 and the contention will be made in court that Stevenson's interest will be affected by the litigation.

Attorney Frank Belmont, who represents clients having claims of about $100,000 against Dowie, said tonight:

DEBTS OF DOWIE

The Lawyers Are Taking a Whirl at Them

Allegations That Bankruptcy Proceedings Were Premature—One Thing Certain is That There's a Great Tangle.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Stronger proof of the fact that all of John Alexander Dowie's creditors are not a unit in the desire to have his estate administered by the bankruptcy court was given this afternoon. Seven creditors representing claims more than $100,000 filed an answer in the United States district court in which they asked Judge Kohlsaat to inquire into the question of Dowie's insolvency at once. They deny that the head of the Zion City is insolvent, or that he was in that condition when the bankruptcy proceedings were begun against him, and they also aver that Dowie should not be declared bankrupt for any cause set forth in the original petition.

The lawyers who represent these seven creditors declare that additional claims will be cited in the contest in bankruptcy proceedings. Statedly, they say that Dowie's estate is not insolvent, and that they would appear in the federal court tomorrow morning with Dowie's representatives and ask the court that the original petition be rescinded, and give an indemnity bond in the sum of $200,000. This request will be made, it is said for the purpose of having something to hold those who brought the bankruptcy petition responsible in the event the case is dismissed on a showing of insolvency. It is also stated that the creditors who have filed the answer will ask Judge Kohlsaat to order the receivers to vacate the lace factory at Zion City. This industry is in charge of a corporation and as Dowie is not the sole stockholder, it will be urged that this concern should not be controlled by the receivership court. LOST AND TOSSED

Submarine Boats in a Terrific Storm

SEAMANDEERY'S HEROISM

In a Gale Off the Virginia Capes the Moccasin and Adder are Torn From Their Tug—Moccasin on the Beach. Adder Recovered.

Cap. Henry, Va., Dec. 4.—The submarine torpedo boat Moccasin is high and dry on Currituck beach. The boat is apparently in good condition, with not a drop of water inside. The Yankton and Vixen have gone to the scene of the stranded vessel.

DEPARTMENT HEARS OF IT.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The navy department this morning received word of the arrival of the submarine boat Adder in tow of the Peoria at Portsmouth. The Yankton has gone after the Moccasin. The Moccasin was boarded by the life saving crew at the Currituck station today, who found her tight and in good condition. No one was on board.

DISASTER AND HEROISM.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 4.—The naval tug Peoria, towing the submarine torpedo boat Adder, which ran ashore yesterday, has arrived at the navy yard here. The Adder was saved by the heroism of Boatswain Deery, who responded to a call for volunteers and swam one hundred yards with a line to the Adder from the tug and pulled a hawser after him.

The Adder is leaking badly. The Peoria left tonight for Currituck to aid the Yankton in locating the Moccasin which is now high and dry upon the beach.

When Boatswain Deery responded to the call for a volunteer to swim to the Adder, a thirty-four mile gale with mountainous seas was crashing over the Peoria and burying the drifting submarine boats beneath tons of water. Deery battled with the wind and tide for 400 yards, finally reaching the Adder and gaining her deck. There he hauled a thick hawser aboard by means of a life line and made fast. At this time the Adder was being tossed about like a cork one minute and driven far beneath the surface the next, reeling and wallowing in such a manner as to make it almost impossible to retain a position upon her scanty deck, but Deery held on and accomplished his work.

Then he went back to the tug hand over hand on the hawser.

Great confusion was caused here today by conflicting reports regarding the whereabouts of the Peoria, Adder and Yankton. The navy yard was without any information whatever and the weather bureau reported the tug and Adder as going direct to Annapolis. In naval circles these circumstances, together with the inability of the lifesavers to enter the stranded vessel, caused some uneasiness, especially over the condition of the Moccasin. The Currituck life saving station reports the Moccasin in good condition without water in her. From reports received, however, it is not thought any headway can be made toward floating the vessel without the aid of wreckers, and it is high and dry upon the beach at low water and directly in a nasty surf at high tide.

It was said at the navy yard today that Boatswain Deery would be commended at once to the president for bravery.

The Adder is leaking and her machinery is badly damaged. Lieutenant English, commanding the Peoria
